CORRUPT LIQUOR INSPECTION

Liquor Inspector Sells to Trade

Board Admits the Fact

State Board of Equalization

Sacramento, May 16th 1941

Mr. F. C. H. Ross,
Colima Limes & Fruit Juice Co.,
822 West A St., San Diego, Calif.

Dear Mr. Ross:

Governor Olson has referred to us your letter of April 29th concerning the activities of Citrus Growers Products Company, Lakeside, California which you believe have constituted unfair competition by one of our employees, Harry N. Koehler, in your fruit juice business.

This matter first came to our attention early last month. After a thorough investigation we are convinced that Mr. Koehler has not used any coercion whatever to secure patronage by alcoholic beverage licensees or others subject to regulation or taxation by this Board with respect to the products of the firm, which appears to have been composed of Mr. L. B. Lindsay and Vera Koehler, Mr. Koehler's wife. When, however criticism arose because of the fact that Mrs. Koehler was connected with the business, we are informed, that she sold her entire interest to Mr. Lindsay on March 28th, 1941 and that now neither Mr. nor Mrs. Koehler is in any way interested in or connected with Citrus Growers Products Company.

Undoubtedly these facts had not come to your attention when you wrote as you did to Governor Olson on April 29th. We note that you have told the Governor that we ignored correspondence from you on the subject, but a careful check of our files does not sustain your statement. If you still believe that you have any justifiable complaint against this office or any member of its staff, we shall be pleased to hear from you further as it is our constant desire to see that there is no occasion for anyone to say that those connected with this Board use their official position for private gain.

Very truly yours,
(Signed) DIXWELL L. PIERCE, Secretary.

March 27th, 1941.

Mr. Geo. M. Stout,
State Liquor Administrator,
State of California, Sacramento, Calif.

Dear Mr. Stout:

Knowing from experience that corruption and unlawful tactics in the ranks of the members of the Board of Equalization, is not in accord with any of your straight-forward methods, therefore we are taking the liberty to address you with reference to a matter that has taken place here recently.

There are three firms in this city who have been established for a great many years in the lemon juice business and accordingly have acquired quite a few customers among the bar and tavern owners here.

Suddenly since March first approximately twenty of the larger bars have discontinued our services and have been coerced by Mr. Harry Koehler, a member of the Board of Equalization here, who with his wife and a neighbor have gone into the lemon juice business in Lakeside, Calif., under the name of Citrus Growers Products Company and operating here in San Diego. His intimidations are of such a nature that the customers are asked to keep this matter quiet, therefore affidavits and the like cannot be secured from our former customers, to be used in our behalf and they in turn are advised to give us excuses and alibis and that is why they all have discontinued our services, which over a period of time heretofore had been perfectly satisfactory.

The legal aspect in this matter is such that lawyers too are fearful of "rubbing the fur the wrong way" of these officials, yet all admit this is a terrible outrage.

Your policies in a matter of this kind are well known and all we ask is fairness Mr. Stout. Either Mr. Koeher be completely discontinued as a member of the Board of Equalization here or let him become a legitimate competitor outright.

We await your favorable reply in the enclosed self-addressed stamped envelope.

Respectfully yours,
(Signed) F. C. H. ROSS.

STATE BOARD OF EQUALIZATION
State of California
Sacramento, April 30, 1941.

Mr. F. C. H. Ross,
Colima Limes & Fruit Juice Co.,
822 West A Street, San Diego, California.

Dear Sir:

Upon receipt of your letter of March 27, this office conducted an investigation of your charges that Mr. Harry Koehler, an employee of the State Board of Equalization at San Diego, was engaged in the fruit juice business and was "coercing" bar and tavern owners into using his product.

Our investigation, which included a visit to the District Attorney's office, shows that Harry Koehler never was a member of the Citrus Growers Products Company, but that his wife, Mrs. Vera Koehler, was a member of that firm in partnership with a Mr. L. B. Lindsay. Our investigation did not disclose any evidence that Harry Koehler ever used coercion, intimidation or any undue influence on anyone to purchase the products of the Citrus Growers Products Company.

However, when it was found that her partnership in this business was causing criticism to fall upon her husband and upon the Board of Equalization, Mrs. Koehler severed all connection with the Citrus Growers Products Company and is no longer connected in any manner with that company or any other company selling lime or lemon juice.

This office is satisfied that the above facts are true.

Very truly yours,
(Signed) GEORGE M. STOUT,
State Liquor Administrator.

Re: Mr. Harry Koehler, an employee, San Diego Board of Equalization.

Dear Sir:

We greatly appreciate your recent letter and truly believe you did endeavor to adjust the unfair busines practices with regard to the above mentioned employee of the San Diego Board of Equalization.

We have since shown your letter to several of our former customers who agree with everything stated and all were unanimous in advising us that Mr. Koehler is still associated with the Citrus Products Company of Lakeside, notwithstanding any denials to the contrary.

We know your intentions were the best in the world, however may we be allowed to offer a solution to this problem? It is quite evident that all employees are invaluable to your offices, however cannot Mr. Koehler be transferred, for an indefinite period of time, to some northern office? We truly believe this would, to some degree, show some immediate results.

We wish to emphasise the fact that our complaints are made in all sincerity and in good faith—other than that we have nothing against Mr. Koehler.

Assuring you we are thankful for your cooperation thus far extended us and any additional assistance you may render our firms, will be more than appreciated.

Very truly yours,
(Signed) F. C. H. ROSS.

War Racketeers

THE FORCES THAT DESTROY

HOT SPRINGS, New Mex.,—War is the destruction of all values, economic, moral and spiritual, on an organized basis. It is the rise and rule of brute force over Law, Reason and Truth.

As soon as war starts all the progress of man ceases. Reforms are forgotten and die. Greed is entrenched and enriched. Freedom of intellect and of expression disappear.

Military men are uniformly snobbish. The rare exception only proves the rule. No snob is ever intellectual. Increase of intellectual powers are always paralled with an increase of humility.

Rarely does an intellectual youth deliberately take up a military career as a life work. Brute force is the element on which armies rely to win. Armies are uniformly far more destructive to their own lands than to those they enter.

In the World war the damage inflicted upon Germany by our troops amounted to less than one twentieth of the damage inflicted upon America. Is it possible that "They Planned it that way?"

The International Money Changers create all wars, all booms and all depressions. For forty years these have actively worked to establish a world government, which shall make all finance subject to themselves, a conquest of all the earth.

In order to make such a world government a success Americans must be reduced to the world level, and the public debt has been carefully builded to astronomical heights to accomplish this end.

Americans have not received one thin dime's worth of anything for this debt that they might not better have had without it. It was carefully planned and executed. They planned a world monetary system based on the gold we have been bonded to buy, a monetary system completely in their own hands.

Now America is bankrupt. Our public and private debt has passed our total national wealth by 150 billion dollars. Once we are inveigled into the war now raging in the old world, we are lost and the bankers have won.

The responsibility rests wholly on Congress. Congress has sold us out. Never in all the history of man have so many lawless men, men who cared nothing for an oath, foregathered under one roof.

May Almighty God have mercy upon America and open the eyes of our people. May He who notes the sparrows fall avenge His own and deliver us in this, earth's darkest days.

DIST. ATTY. BRADY. S. F.— "The cruelest ordeal inflicted on mothers is the ordeal of war—stark, brutal, vainglorius war that snatches sons from their bosoms!"

How Roosevelt Forced Petain to Join the Axis

Freedom from Want, "Everywhere on Earth" . .

In the issue of the SATURDAY EVENING POST of May 24, on page 118, second colum, lower half, Demaree Bess reports as follows:

" . . . Our representatives began their activity at Belgrade last January, when Col. William Donovan stopped off with autographed letters of introduction from President Roosevelt. Donovan is the hard-boiled type who enjoys playing war politics. In the Capital of Turkey, Ankara, I ran across an example of his technique. At a large reception in Ankara, Donovan met the French ambassador. In the presence of several persons the ambassador said to him, 'We Frenchmen hope your country will send food to save France from starvation.'

"Donovan retorted, 'The American people are prepared to starve every Frenchman if that's necessary to defeat Hitler.' Shortly thereafter, Donovan's visa for French Syria was revoked . . . "

Read on and see for yourself how Roosevelt betrayed the Yugo-Slavian's into bloody slavery to Hitler. Today they are prisoners of war and thousands of them got killed and maimed because of Roosevelt's false promises. This shows how France, Poland, England, Belgium, Holland was betrayed into Hitler's hands, unnecessarily. Had Bullitt not promised American cooperation there would never have been a war. Both Bullitt and Donovan are Roosevelt's agents. When history will reveal the facts it will be written down that this is Roosevelt's war on behalf of the International Bankers whose gold he bought with our taxmonies at double its value and then gave it back to them when he returned ownership to the Federal Reserve Bank, a private corporation owned by the International Bankers. But our soldiers are guarding this Jewish gold hoard and our youth is being drafted to defend it for them.

And to rub it in, we have to pay principal and interest to the Rothchilds, the Sassoons, Lehmans, Warburgs, Kuhn Loeb, Morgenthaus for guarding their gold for them which we bought with I. O. U.'s and don't own it, besides.

Just Keep Us Out of War!

Mr. Franklin D. Roosevelt,
President of the United States,
Washington, D. C.

Dear Sir:

Referring to the spectacular trial balloons recently sent up by three of your understudies, Messrs. Knox, Hull, et al, and to the yet more recent hysterical histrionics of one Winston Churchill the answer is still very decidedly

NO

The memory of one president who betrayed his country into war after being elected because "He kept us out of war" should serve as a deterrent when the temptation to play the role of dictator to regulate the world comes to you.

Very truly yours,
WE, THE PEOPLE.

Can These Things Be True ?

(The Herald, Hot Springs, New Mexico)

When the unconstitutional conscription act was before Congress its sponsors assured us that those with conscientious scruples against war would be given civilian employment, of which there would be plenty. This served to somewhat appease the public.

In the two past issues of THE BROOM, published at San Diego, Calif., the assertion has been made that these young Christians are being placed in camps where they are required to labor without pay, but are required to actually pay $35. to the government for board while doing forced labor, in involuntary servitude.

CAN IT BE POSSIBLE THAT SUCH THINGS ARE DONE UNDER THE STARS & STRIPES IN A TIME OF PEACE?

It seems unreasonable—impossible that Americans would submit to such treatment, or that officials should so far forget American traditions.

IF these things ARE true those responsible should be impeached and imprisoned. It would be unsafe to ever allow such characters to run at large.

In a world largely at war, unity for national defense will never be promoted by harassing conscientious citizens because of their scruples. IF Nudealers ARE pulling anything as raw as this when we are not in war how far, in heaven's name, will they go if they succeed in the plan to involve us?

Too many proven red radicals are holding key positions in our government. Unity can only be assured by ousting them. Loyal Americans must bestir themselves.

Sweeping War-Filth From American Soil

Editor, The Broom:

Have you discovered filth in America, against which George Washington warned? Let us quote from his Farewell Address: "Why interweave our destiny with that of any part of Europe, entangle our peace and prosperity in the toils of European ambition, rivalship, interest, humor or caprice? It is our true policy to steer clear of permanent alliances with any portion of the foreign world". (September 17, 1796). Thomas Jefferson expressed the same conviction.

Some one wrote: "The United States could equip an army of 16,000,000 young men and place them into the battlefields". The motive: to save "Wall Street gold, and bury it in Kentucky". The undertakers of that gold will find their anticipated reason realized, that the goldgraves must soon yield to the exhumation of that gold; lest our free Republic become bankrupt. Will every "fourth young man, and 17 year old boy, find a slaughter-pen in war? How many caskets will be needed? What will be the value, weighed with gold, buried gold, etc., of the boys, stolen from mothers' cradles, to secure exposed gold? Abel's blood will be crying to heaven. Our warmongers cannot escape that burning upon their conscience, for forcing our boys into murderous slaying.

Daniels will come in due time and read the "Handwriting upon every wall" behind which guilty souls are located; souls that drove these boys into slaughter. Our Lord said: "Blessed are the peacemakers, for they are the children of God". Whose children are warmakers? Pity officials of our nation who do all they can, in their great power, to bring war upon us. The sting of remorse will follow. May God give our legislators wisdom and a conviction, that their duties are to make peace. "As much as in you lieth, live peaceably with all men". By this ye shall know that ye are my disciples in deed.

FIVE VICIOUS GERMANS

By Herbert S. Mace
(Concluded)

Once within the cabin, the officers discover that they had broken into the play house three small boys—the sons of Mr. Robert Smi The boys, stunned by the sudden crashing in their cabin screamed with fright and attemp ed to make their get-away.

By all means, the discovery must never b come known. It would make the police t laughing stock of the city. It would discre the intelligence of the Intelligent Departme It would put to shame the experts. It wou release the masses who heard the story of "T Five Vicious Germans" from fear. It wou lessen their hatred for the Germans. It wou destroy a great propaganda tool. And hu dreds of young men who had been led to enl because of the "Five Vicious Germans" wou lose interest in the war. Also, thousands of d lars had been raised by the Red Cross and oth thousands invested in Liberty Bonds to save e Nation from these "Five Vicious Germans" ad their kind.

Something must be done, and done at one. Five hundred men and soldiers were waitig about the cabin to make an attack against a hidden fort if necessary. If they learned te truth—it would reach the people of the towr—spread thruout the Nation—find its way to Grmany thru our enemies and there be used to discredit the United States and make of it "laughing stock". If the officers had blundered before, now they showed good judgment.

"Grab those brats", the leader shouted as the boys rushed towards the door. "Guard that door! Tell the men outside to lay low until further orders. Tear those blankets down. Wrap the brats in them. Rush them home to Smith's."

The terrible battle between the police and the German spies that the papers featured by the following morning was soon over. The police, soldiers, secret service men and volunteers winning an easy victory over three small frightened boys.

But there was still another task to be done. The cabin must be destroyed or the solution of the mystery might leak out. The leader of these brave men went over to the table on which an oil lamp was setting, grabbed it up and dashed it to the floor. The papers told how the Germans, not wanting their secrets taken had thrown a lamp on the floor, setting fire to the cabin.

At the home of Mr. Smith a hurried counsel was held between the Secret Service men, the police, Mr. and Mrs. Smith and Miss Mary Garden. It developed that the three Smith boys had been carrying on a secret childhood love affair with the wards of Miss Garden. Miss Garden had found the Smith boys playing marbles "for keeps" and had forbidden her wards to have anything to do with such bad boys. The children were not so easily defeated—so plotted to keep in touch with each other.

The discharged German gardener had suggested to them that is would be great fun for them to have a radio set. Mr. Robert Smith, not knowing of the plot, was glad to supply his boys with the things needed. On the night that Miss Garden had reported the plot to the police, the boys had slipped across the canyon and by ropes lowered by the girls from the attic window, had sent up the receiving set. The powder puff was used as a signal by the girls in sending down a note saying that the set had been received and carefully hidden in their room. The screams of Miss Mary Garden had sent the girls off to bed and the boys flying home, leaving behind a part of their equipment.

From then on the plot deepened. The guards about the house made it that much more difficult for the young lovers—just "kids", to work together, but it made them all the more determined to be undefeated and gave them the added thrill of a secret adventure. They little realized what an amazing plot was being woven around them—how far reaching the results would be; nor that they were actually the wanted "Five Vicious Germans", the center of a Nation-wide mystery.

It was decided for the good of the cause that both the Smiths and Miss Garden and her wards should move to parts unknown. The papers told how they were moved to protect them from the friends of "The Five Vicious Germans". Childhood friendships were broken up, for the Smiths moved West; Miss Garden and her wards moved East and the children were not permitted to know the whereabouts of each other.

Thus ended the deep laid plot of "The Five Vicious Germans"; thus the arm of the law reached out and thwarted a deep-laid plot; thus the powder mills were saved at a great cost; but then by keeping the solution of the mystery a secret, thousands of dollars were raised for war work and hundreds of young men whipped into a spirit of hatred for the Germans that sent them into a living hell-hole, "For God and Humanity". Thus our espionage laws were fully justified—for such secrets at such times should never be revealed. The plot is ended, unless in the child mind and child heart the breaking of their friendship has sown seeds that may some day, somewhere bring forth an aftermath.

Cost of Killing Rises Rapidly in Modern War

TARENTUM, Pa.—The cost of killing a soldier has increased from $50 in the time of Julius Caesar to between $50,000 and $75,000 in the present war, according to [illegible] Churchill, an industrial chemist.

Churchill told a meeting here the expense of war-time killing has risen steadily through the centuries, with a tremendously great advance occuring between the World war and today.

By the time of Napoleon, the cost had become $1500 for each man killed, the chemist said, and during the World war the figure was about $2500. He added that Napoleon's advisers & allies thought the cost far too high in their time.

Churchill cited as the reason for the huge increase in the cost the fact that war is now fought with machinery—which adds greatly to the cost—although manpower still is the backbone of war.

"The development of mechanical devices and improvement of machinery has lifted a great deal of hard physical labor from men's shoulder but military men are turning this machinery to war purposes instead of using it for peaceful pursuits," he declared.

Britain's Crimes Are Heroic

MIDDLETON, Idaho,— What a difference there has been in the newspaper and radio handling of the news from Iraq as compared to the accounts of the German occupation of Norway, Belgium. Holland and other countries; yet the actual facts have been nearly identical except that the positions of the principals have been reversed.

If anything, the German occupation of the various countries has been more nearly justified than the British occupation of Iraq, for their occupation was forced as a matter of protection against actual attack, while the British occupation was more a matter of protecting the oil supplies of British owners. It is altogether probable under the terms of the Lend-Lease bill that the British government would be able to obtain oil supplies at less cost and with more certainty from the US than from Iraq, though this would not be true of those supplies needed for the Egyptian defense. The point is in the way the news was handled in this country; when the Germans took over the different countries our newspapers did everything they could to make the act appear as villainious as possible; when the British invaded Iraq there was much explaining of the reason England was entitled to do this without cause for censure. The real story was "between the lines". —Boise Valley (Idaho) Herald.

Ed Fletcher Sponsors More Un-American and Un-Constitutional Interference With Small Businessmen

SACRAMENTO,—Designed to "correct" practices that have brought about unfair prices for barbering, a bill to permit the establishment of minimum prices is being sponsored in the Legislature by Senator Ed Fletcher of San Diego.

Declaring that conditions existing in the trade should be corrected in the interest of public health, the proposed act would authorize the State Board of Barber Examiners to establish prices for any city or county upon its own motion or following presentation of a petition signed by 75 per cent of the barbers in the city or county.

In fixing minimum prices the board would be required to investigate necessary costs. A readjustment of prices might be effected following presentation of a petition by 51 percent of the barbers involved and determination that rates were too low to provide satisfactory service.

Violation of a minimum price schedule could be enjoined in court and be the basis for disciplinary action by the board, according to Senator Fletcher's bill, which has been adopted by the Senate.

The board would also be authorized to establish rules and regulations to enforce the proposed act and to require barber shops to keep records of prices, expenses and profits.

Roosevelt, Hull & Bullitt Cannot Bully Erie into War

Ireland Will Not Barter Her Sovereign Rights

SAN FRANCISCO,—Speaking at a mass meeting of the American Friends of Irish Neutrality held on Friday evening, April 25, in the Windsor Palace Ballroom, this city, the Hon. Frank Aiken, Eire's Minister for Coordination for Defense Measures, gave a very clear definition of Ireland's neutrality, why she is neutral and how she intends to remain neutral in this war. Ireland, he said, is the most blockaded country in the world, being blockaded by both England and Germany. Ireland needs food, he said, food and arms, ships and supplies, wherewith to make the defense of Ireland more effective and Ireland is able and willing to pay for what she gets, but she is not willing to barter her sovereign rights in order to purchase these supplies. He said in part:

"There have been suggestions in certain papers that the price Ireland should be forced to pay for food, arms and ships should be not only the full wartime inflated cash value thereof, but that in addition we should be made to surrender our sovereign right to declare war. Some papers have even gone so far as to hint that we might be prepared to pay this price. Lest any of you should have any doubt about our attitude on the matter, let me say once and for all: the sovereign rights of the Irish people will not be bartered for food or ships or arms or for any other consideration whatsoever.

"A few days ago a leading New York newspaper advised the Government of the United States to join with the British Government in bringing strong pressure to bear on Ireland to participate in the war. I don't know how the editor squares this proposition with professions of democracy. One of the first principles of democracy is that the people concerned shall have the right to decide for themselves the vital question of war and peace. The Irish people, in the free portion of Ireland, took their decision at the outset of this war. It was for peace; practically, unanimously for peace. All parties, classes and creeds; every public representative; every newspaper—all agreed that in our circumstances there was only one policy for the nation in its own interest to adopt; the policy of maintaining neutrality unless and until the territory under national control was attacked. That is the policy of the Irish people; and the people having declared for peace, it is the duty of the Government to do all in its power to maintain peace."

WAR ENTRY SUICIDAL, SAYS EDUCATOR

ATLANTIC CITY,—President Robert M. Hutchins of the University of Chicago charged that American entry in the European war would "betrap humanity", and bring world-wide totalitarian government.

He warned that "we have every reason to fear that we shall enter this war for democracy without resort to democratic processes."

Hutchins' address was a special feature of the golden jubilee celebration of the General Federation of Women's clubs at Atlantic City.

'Could Win War'

"We have stopped trying to make democracy work," he said. "It is the spectacle of a country with appalling problems, many of them resulting from the last war, about to plunge into another in the hope of ending its troubles that way."

"In the life of individuals this method of solving problems is known as suicide."

He said the nation "could win this war", but emphasized that "things will be bad" in or out of war and "war worse if we go in than if we stay out." Then he recalled President Roosevelt's "Four Freedoms" and warned that "our ideals will be unrecognizable . . . if we have learned to hate everybody but the English and Chinese."

Challenging those who say the nation has no choice for peace, Hutchins declared that "Hitler will decide". He said Hitler will never attack the United States "if we are prepared," nor penetrate South America "if we deal justly and intelligently with her."

Draftees Opposed to War

FT. BLISS, Texas,—When a young fellow is drafted into the army his first contact with military life is at the induction center.

Much to my surprise, the induction center for West Texas turns down one out of every 12 men who come through. They have already passed the draft board medical exam, but they can't come up to army standards.

From the induction center the boys go to the reception center. This is where they get their uniforms and really get into the army for keeps.

The reception center at Ft. Bliss can handle 450 men a day. Putting a man through is called "processing". It takes two days to "process" a new soldier.

He has to get his smallpox vaccination and typhoid shots, the identification tag to put around his neck, his whole equipment of uniform, blankets, toilet articles, mess kit and so on, and go through various classification interviews.

The Ft. Bliss reception center has "processed" 900 men since January and they have had only three or four conscientious objectors.

One was belligerent and wouldn't sign for the clothing they issued him. So Col. R. O. Annin, who is in charge, just had the clothes sent over to his tent anyway. The boy hasn't signed for his clothes to this day but he's wearing them; you may be sure of that.

Another young fellow said he didn't object to going in the army but he wasn't going to kill anybody. So they assigned him to a noncombatant unit.

Occasionally they get somebody who is just burned up about being drafted and remains sulky and mean all through his "processing". But on the whole the boys are quite willing, in fact eager to get in and do whatever is asked of them.

Almost without exception, they're scared to death the first couple of days. The officers and men who handle them take this into consideration and are pretty easy with them. Some of them are frightened so badly they shake all over.

The food is excellent at the Ft. Bliss reception center. In fact, it's probably better there than anywhere else, for it's the policy now to let the boys down easily into the regular army life. When they finally get assigned to regular units and get down to honest-to-goodness soldiering, they also get down to regular army grub. But even the straight fare, everybody says, is much better than it was in the last war.

"Be not deceived; God is not mocked: for whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap."

Against Going to War

Although I haven't gone around like the Inquiring Reporter actually buttonholing anybody, I have picked up the impression around here that the officers and men of the army, on the whole, are against us going into the war. I believe they are more against it than the same number of ordinary citizens picked at random. —Erne Pyle.

My dear Mr. de Aryan:

I am instructed to notify you that The Company elects to cancel your broadcasting contract agreement with KGB, dated January 19, 1940, with this station by exercise of The Company's right to cancel as defined in paragraph 3 of the contract conditions.

Accordingly, please accept this as your written notification that your radio broadcasting contracting for one quarter-hour program weekly 'til forbid is herewith terminated as of this date.

Yours very truly
DON LEE BROADCASTING SYSTEM
S. W. FULLER, Manager KGB.

SWF:LK

The people must bear in mind that during the 2¼ years of broadcasting over KGB I have at no time enjoyed freedom of uncensored expression. The radio station itself is muzzled by the Federal Communication Commission. If it displeases the Federal Administration it loses its broadcasting license.

Now, even after my program was written down in advance. Even after it was censored and passed upon by the station management, suddenly the station finds itself confronted by the necessity of canceling my contract or losing its license.

Bear in mind. My last broadcast was a PEACE broadcast. It closed with offering "God's Peace to you, and to your Household?"

And to sing a Peace Song over the air, to offer God's Peace to one's enemies is more than the present Jew Deal will tolerate.

Verily, those who are offended by it, repeat the curse which they cast upon themselves when they said:

> Matthew, 27, verse 24, 25: "So when Pilate saw that he prevailed nothing, but rather that a tumult was arising, he took water, and washed his hands before the multitude, saying, I am innocent of the blood of this righteous man; see ye to it.
> And all the people answered and said, His blood be on us and on our children."

Read the text of our last Broadcast on page Six and you will realize how they hate the truth.

But the Truth shall rise and triumph over them!

Fellow Americans! I have taken a solemn oath to uphold the Constitution of these United States of America with its Bill of Rights. If every office holder renegs on his oath, I keep mine!

Be sure to congratulate KGB and the FBI on its heroic stand in this "Land of the Free and the Home of the Brave"!

Definitions of Specific Terms Revealing Basis of Ownership

After Several Months of Painstaking Work, R. J. Otto Published the Following Important Definitions

(From THE FORUM, Stockton, Calif.)

PUBLIC - SERVICE - RENT: This definition identifies compensation for advantages provided by society, both through its governmental agencies and through the general activities of the people at large. Public-service-rent indicates the total worth of these advantages available to the renter; payments which are characterized by the fact that the worth of the individual items comprising these advantages cannot be estimated. The term "public-service-rent" was first used by Mr. C. Leon de Aryan, of San Diego, California.

WALKER RAISES QUESTION

Dear Mr. Otto: I have your letter of April 1 with definitions, to the latter of which I wished to give some thought before replying.

To get back to the matter of public-service-rent, Mr. Beckwith was here Monday and in discussing your definitions said that although the term was to be preferred to "ground" rent, he did not consider it wholly satisfactory. Later he happened to use the expression "cooperative rent."* We were both immediately struck with the thought that here—cooperative rent—is the very term for which we have long sought. There may be objections to this term, but to date I can think of none nor have heard of any. Hereafter I shall use this term in preference to all others in the discussion of matters pertaining to economic science. I will appreciate learning your reaction to the use of this term—cooperative rent.

Cordially yours, C. R. WALKER.

Chicago, Illinois, April 17, 1941.

*I'm unable to recall either the remark, or its context; but if I seemed to approve the use of any adjective in this connection, it was unintentional. What I may have said is that, if one insists upon using an adjective, the adjective "co-operative" is the most nearly accurate.

OTTO REPLIES TO WALKER'S LETTER

Dear Mr. Walker: Your fine letter of April 17 has been received and I appreciate your sincere and kindly attitude.

My reason for using the term public-service-rent is twofold. First, I wanted to bring this expression into dictionary conformity. According to our present dictionaries, the word rent has two general meanings. One is the Ricardo concept that rent is payment for the use of land. (This meaning certainly doesn't fit the facts.) The other is its compound usage such as house-rent, boat-rent, book-rent, car-rent, et al. Thus my use of de Aryan's compound term public-service-rent. My other reason for using the term is to impress upon the reader's mind the fact that this is not Ricardo's stuff.

However, I believe the use of this compound term is a temporary one. (Emphasis by The Forum.) I realize that in localities where it tends to become confused with public service corporations, its use is not advisable. However, I understand that John Z. White, in his book entitled PROPERTY, demonstrates that the term public refers to those things derived from government; hence the term public-service-rent would exclude these utility companies.

On the other hand, the term is a bit redundant in a definition, since an adjective is not necessary where a word is defined. A similar expression is community service rent. But what seems to me most important of all is the accuracy of the definition itself, which I believe is sound. It is: Payments, on the open market, for the advantages of society. To this definition I have received no complaints, except possibly from two elderly gentlemen who kindly inform me that rent is payment for use of land. However they make no demonstrations, whatsoever, to prove their point.

Unfortunately, I do not like the term, co-operative rent. (See p 4216.—LDB.) Personally, I believe you will find it difficult to explain exactly what is meant by cooperative in this sense. How would you explain it? I'd really like to know! Certainly the term doesn't mean a leveling or evening process; or represent payments which arise at no cost of human exertion which all the people should find a way to "get"! In my judgment, it's certainly not that sort of thing. To me rent is an obligation for every person to pay! It is payment for services rendered. And if those who pay it will pay it to the proper parties, the proper parties will get it without any trouble. If the people do that, there will be no need to worry about its distribution. That will take care of itself. To view that in any other light is to encourage confusion, at least it seems to me so. There's nothing more co-operative in paying a rent bill than there is in paying a telephone bill. They are the same sort of transaction, only with different corporations.

May I repeat: Rent is something to be paid! It is not something to be got! To me, this is a most vital distinction, for it makes possib a change of thought which is most helpful t a clearer understanding of the non-socialic character ana quality of social life under a t-ural order. If I sound too insistent, please r-give me. For I do so only because I see so mh strength and character in this latter concep

Thanking you again, I remain

Very truly yours, R. J. OTTO.

Public Service Creates Rent

Dear Beckwith:

I noticed the correspondence between Walr and Otto concerning the terms PUBLIC SERVICE RENT and COOPERATIVE RENT, ad your remarks.

If cooperative rent expresses the thought tter, by all means, let's use it. But does it?

In the first place, we do not have "coopeatives" as they have them in the Scandianvn countries and England. Thus a popular appal is out.

In the second place, cooperative effort meas deliberate and conscious cooperation to produe the rent value of what? Of the rendered srvice, if you please, otherwise no rent is de where there is no rendered service. The wod service, then, becomes indispensable for the irection of the student mind to the proper cocept of why the rent is due. But is this srvice a result of cooperative effort? It certainly is a service, but when the givers of that srvice are independent individuals who never ooperated to produce the service, is it coopeative?

One man improves his lot here and builds a home there, etc., goes into business, raises cros, all haphazard following individual need and fancy. It renders a service in toto to the community, which capitalized today increases "land value", but the RENT value of this service did not result from any concerted understanding among the individuals to cooperate for its creation. But these individuals are members of the public and their services redound to the advantage of the public, thus it is a public service both in its origin and in its effect. If any service is public, this certainly is.

Otto writes: "I realize that in localities where it tends to become confused with public service corporations, its use is not advisable".

This reminds me of the explanation given by a Rumanian peasant woman concerning the telephone. She said that the devil was perched in the mouthpiece of the phone and you whispered into his ear. He, then, sent out little devils who ran like lightening along the telephone wire and relayed the message at the other end and then each little devil was taking a tumble into the rain barrel to cool off. The ground wire at the village school was attached to the rain barrel.

Now Mr. Otto might say: "I realize that in communities where it tends to become confused with deviltry, telephones should not be used".

As a matter of fact those communities better wake up and learn, perhaps for the first time in their backward education, that the city, the county, the state ARE public CORPORATIONS.

In this way the term covers every source of the service which creates RENT values and equally redounds to all who benefit. It is the public as individuals and as public corporations.

In matters of science we do not appease the devil worshippers and drop our definitions to conform to their standard of intelligence. Or do you?

Sincerely, C. LEON de ARYAN.

The Synagogue, The Lair of Satan

By Martin Luther

Therefore be on your guard against the Jews and be warned that their Synagogues are nothing but a lair of Satan, where boastfulness, pride, falseness and blasphemy are practiced and taught, and where the image of God and Man are disgracefully violated in the manner of the Evil One Himself. Whenever you see or hear a Jew teaching, remember that you are being confronted by a venomous basilisk which poisons and kills by its mere regard. (p.44)

This race has been possessed by Lucifer and all his angels . . . Their breath reeks of the Gentiles' gold and silver. There is no more miserly nation under the sun, and their disgraceful usury shows that they will remain so forever. One of their most consoling thoughts is that at the advent of their Messiah he will pile together all the gold and silver of the whole world and distribute it amongst the Jews . . . The Israelites covet gold and silver more than any nation of the world. Cursed be the vile race of Jews and cursed be their iniquity! (W.53, p.477-78)

Note:—(W.) refers to the Weimar edition of Martin Luther's works. — (E.) refers to the Erlangen edition.

Therefore, my beloved Christians, be on your guard against the Jews whom our Lord, in His Wrath, has surrendered to the Evil One . . . Consequently, whenever you encounter a real Jew you may, in good faith, make the sign of the cross and openly and fearlessly pronounce the words: This is a veritable devil. (W.53, p.479)

The Jews long to see the detested Gentiles as their slaves . . . they expect them to give their gold and silver to the Jews and to let themselves be slaughtered like cattle.

They have been taught so much deadly hatred against the Gentiles by their parents and Rabbis since their earliest youth, and continue to feed their hate during all the years of their lives, that this hatred has saturated their very blood and flesh, fills the very marrow of their bones and has become inseparable from their whole being. Just as it is impossible to alter flesh and blood, marrow and bones, it is impossible for them to refrain from pride and envy. They are doomed to remain as they are and miserably perish. (p.481) Therefore, do not doubt and never forget, beloved Christians, that, apart from Satan himself, you possess no more deadly poisonous and dreadful enemy than a real Jew . . . For this reason they have often, in the course of history, been accused of poisoning wells, kidnapping and maltreating children. They themselves deny this. — Be that as it may, I positively know there is no lack of will on their part to accomplish such deeds.

If, however, they happen to do good, do not believe their actions are the fruits of benevolent feelings towards you or that they were undertaken for your benefit; on the contrary, they are compelled to act charitably ever and anon because they desire to be granted the room to live with us. Their hearts, however, remain as black as I have described them . . . They dwell in our country and are at home there, live under our protection, make use of the land and the highways, markets and streets. Our potentates and aristocracy idly look on, gape, and undertake nothing to prevent the Jews from stealing what they covet from their open purses and chests. They allow the Jews to totally impoverish them by the extortion of exhorbitant sums of money by USURY from them and their subjects, so that even their own wealth, having passed into Jewish hands, becomes the instrument through which they are reduced to penury. Indeed, the Jews, who are foreigners, ought to possess nothing. All they own should certainly be ours: They do not work. We, on the other hand, give them nothing. In spite of that they possess our money, goods and chattels, and are consequently our masters in our OWN COUNTRY. Whenever a thief steals ten guilders, he is hanged; if he commits robbery on the open street, he is decapitated; but if a Jew steals and extorts ten tons of gold with his USURY, our princes regard him with more love than they feel for God Himself. The proof is that the Jews themselves vaunt that they do not work, but that they live in ease and idleness and that the cursed Gentiles are compelled to toil for them, and that they, the Jews, obtain the Gentiles' money and are thereby their masters and the Gentiles their slaves. (W.53, p.482-83)

School Board Mustn't Sell Land

EYE TO THE FUTURE

East San Diego business groups and service clubs are waging a fight with the San Diego school board to stop sale of unimproved school-owned land in East San Diego.

These lands, believe the local residents, are something which shouldn't be disposed of, which are a valuable asset to the district—and which will become more and more valuable as time goes on.

Public opinion is that the business clubs are right, and that they're being very far-sightel about the whole thing.

Without any question, San Diego (and East San Diego with it), is growing by leaps and bounds. Furthermore, it will continue to grow for a number of years yet.

School authorities admit that present facilities have been outgrown, and that very soon the city will be forced to enlarge radically its school system.

If this is true (and we believe it is), the selling of land suitable for school expansion seems like a sucker move—and a move which the school board (and the taxpayers), will regret if it is carried through.

The land is ideally located: Equally spaced between the two existing ESD grammar schools, Hamilton and Euclid. A new school erected at this place would serve the coming needs admirably.

So let's stop the board from making any hasty mistakes. This district can do the job if they want to, experience has shown that. So—let's want to.

Let's call and phone to School Board members about it.—East San Diego Press.

HEALTH-GERMS

By George Starr White, M. D.

EPILEPSY

The word "epilepsy" refers to convulsions accompanied by unconsciousness. There really is no such un-health as "epilepsy", for the condition may be caused by a multitude of reflex troubles.

Dr. Geo. Starr White

The most prominent cause for the reflex spasm is colitis. I have never seen epileptic spasms in one who did not have colitis.

There is a way to overcome these spasms; and that is to clear up the colitis. I have never seen one who had these spasms who could digest starches. Hence I take away all foods made from grains, and all potatoes. Fruits, vegetables, vegetable-fats, honey and any nuts except peanuts (pecan nuts seem the best), should make up the entire diet.

I have had some cases who went into these "fits" after eating raw bananas. Baked bananas may be eaten by the same patients, without adverse effects.

Milk is bad for epileptics; and "milk cures" are deadly. Long "water-fasts" are likewise disastrous.

In olden times it was thought the person with the "fits" was possessed with "evil spirits", or with the "devil". The frothing at the mouth and the biting of the tongue, seen in true epileptic spasms, do frighten the on-lookers. As a rule, the one who has the spasms remembers nothing in particular about them, except the "queer feeling" just before the "fit" sets in.

The intestins seem suddenly to stop action, and the energy sent to the brain appears to be "side-tracked". I have been able to stop many cases of these "fits", by putting a silver or copper wire about the head, or by placing a wet cloth around the top of the head.

In all cases of epileptic spasms there is a profound toxemia—a condition of over-powering hyper-acidity (lowered alkaline-reserve).

The eating of one yeast-cake will often bring on an attack of epilepsy. This gives us the cue, for nothing will cause more toxemia in the intestins than fresh yeast.

The bowels must be kept active. Plenty of distilled water should be taken between or before meals—never along with, or immediately after, the meal. Ice-cold foods and drinks must be avoided.

If the small intestins be over-worked and toxic materials remain in the intestins, the blood absorbs extra waste matter that the kidneys have to filter out. The more the amount of waste matter to filter out, the more the "filter-units" have to be called into heavy duty. Epilepsy means tired kidneys and tired intestins.

Epilepsy is all a matter of a disturbed or distorted metabolism. This distorted metabolism sets up a turmoil in the "electrical centers" in the body. I can prove this by certain "wiring' up" of the body. Over-worked kidneys may be the match that sets the "charge" off. Neither eat or drink anything colder than the normal body temperature about 100 degrees F.

Serum Kills Jockey

Hightshoe Dies of Blood Poisoning

CHICAGO,— Ray Hightshoe, 23-year-old jockey from Greenwood, Nev., died from what physicians said was septicemia, a form of blood poisoning, which followed a seige of pneumonia. He became ill during the Sportsman's Park meeting two weeks ago.

A serum to combat the blood poisoning was rushed from Philadelphia two days ago and Hightshoe showed some improvement. However, he took a turn for the worse. He leaves a widow, Shirley, and a nine-months-old daughter.

MAZDAZNAN SCIENCE & FAITH

Synopsis of Breath Lesson Number One given broadcast unto all the world. Irrespective of caste, creed or color, aiming toward fellowship, friendship, a brotherhood that will lead mankind to the fount of truth as revealed by Mazdaznan—the only and straight way.

MAZDAZNAN YIMA EXERCISE

First of all relax every part of your body, whether standing, sitting or lying down. Keep your chest out; hold muscles in check. Exhale slowly; do not move the chest. Empty the lungs to the utmost. As soon as it seems you cannot empty the lungs any more—arrest all further action. Do not move; keep your mind on the state of inaction and either count mentally to eighteen or more, or think a prayer. Now inhale through the nostrils fully, but with ease, and immediately empty the lungs as before, arresting all action for eighteen or more seconds and proceed as before for two or more times. Four times in all will suffice, although after a few hours the Exercise may have to be repeated. Hot water applications to parts affected may eliminate the trouble altogether, if taken in connection with the Yima Exercise. In some cases ice water is used for application.

To the extent one's mind suffers or lacks power to utilize its latent forces, or control one's talents for good, it is because the inspiration is too low and the dynamics lack the power required to keep the Mind in Tune with Harmonic Laws governing the individual. When depressed, downhearted, disappointed, irritable or void of thought, when mentally overtaxed, it will prove not only a panacea but the only means to set heart and mind at ease through the use of the

MAZDAZNAN AIRYAMA EXERCISE.

Relax all muscles and throw out your chest. Inhale through nostrils slowly but fully; always attempt to inhale a little more after you think you have filled your lungs completely. Now retain the breath and arrest all action and count mentally to eighteen or more, or think a prayer; then exhale slowly but completely, and immediately inhale as before, taking caution not to move the once expanded muscles of the chest; retain the breath again for eighteen or more seconds and thereafter exhale. This Exercise should be taken three to five times just before sitting down to study or taking up mental work. Do not take this exercise immediately after a meal.

By Charles H. Ingersoll
(Of Dollar Watch Fame)

When the President announced a new group of 'Freedoms', I was disappointed at their lack of novelty; and what I wanted to suggest to him as substitutes were really new—in class and kind—they are economic freedoms and bear directly on everyone's activity and productivity.

Ingersoll

They are: first, freedom to produce, and next, freedom to exchange or trade. This statement has application to our present tragic war situation, since the agreement is almost complete that the cause of war is economic.

Right now both these freedoms are brought up for discussion; and it is only through lack of widespread discussion that these most vital of freedoms are withheld, and war therefore goes ruthlessly on.

Freedom to produce wealth is man's most fundamental natural right. It follows immediately man's right to life, because he can sustain life only by production. Hence, also follows his right to access to the only source of raw materials for production—the earth.

In England this natural principle finds most positive demonstration:—47,000,000 people must produce, because their foreign supply lines are cut. And so, in theory, they must produce or starve. So when Laborite Leach takes to task Lady Astor, of Cliveden, purely as an example of the landlords who, as Lloyd George said, 'make Britons trespassors on their own soil', he goes to the very vitals of the first human necessity—freedom to produce—first, without this freedom, the people of Britain must literally die of starvation, which potentially millions of people are now doing.

Freedom to exchange, although active in a distinct field, is economically a part of a free production. England has been the pioneer in this first great contribution to economic democracy. She built her empire through employment of freedom of trade, and if she loses that empire, her abandonment of free trade will be the obvious reason. This abandonment may be traced directly to her lack of freedom of production—the coordinate freedom.

Illustrating this prime need in present war distress, the U. S. Congress is considering 'a letting-down of tariff bars'. The Cullen bill would concede the 'cost-of-production basis' of computing duties on English imports vs. their American sale price! We can donate billions of cash and materials for war; but we cannot restore a natural freedom—only in a tiny fraction—containing the vital elements of peace.

However, here in our Congress, and in England, in their Parliament, are these two principles positively recognized. Here do we not only recognize that this change would lower prices to our impoverished consumers, but that their wool, linens, etc. would then be available as payment for war material, thus denying 'protectionism'. There the more obvious principle is need of land for production of food, where not over 5% of total consumption is now produced, on fertile soil, which, if it were not monopolized in great estates, could feed many times the population. So do we in our respective national forums debate the two principles of economic freedom—briefly and casually—not realizing that we are near the 'truth that should set us free'.

Monopoly is an old word—like democracy; it means exploitation, using man-made law; and ignoring man's natural rights. It does not mean individual or corporate ownership of 'everything'.

Monopoly thrives on our sales-tax system:— we do not collect monopoly rents and royalties that would pay for our fifteen billion dollar government; so we tax 130 million consumers into poverty.

Nothing Short of Right Is Right

(Over KGB, Wednesday, May 21, 1941, 7:30 pm)

By The de Aryan Family

I had an interview last week with Mr. Harold Nathan, second in command of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, Department of Justice. It was a very interesting and very enlightening interview; you will find it in last week's issue of THE BROOM, copies of which you may buy at the usual news-stands that sell our paper. If you happen to pass through the lobbies of the new Post Office or the Civic Center buildings, remember to ask for a copy of THE BROOM at the news-stand. I want to remind you at this time that you may subscribe to the paper by mailing your subscription to THE BROOM, East San Diego, Calif. Simply enclose a dollar bill and you will receive the paper for the period covered by that amount.

Towards the close of my interview with Mr. Nathan, I invited him to listen to my radio program and he promised to do so provided it contained a musical number. I have asked Mrs. de Aryan to sing for him tonight. She is here at the studio and now we hope Mr. Nathan is going to listen. But while I was arranging this special program, dedicated to Mr. Nathan, I asked the rest of the family to come along also and do their part. These are times of great emergencies where everybody must emerge from obscurity and be counted openly, and when the roll is called up yonder, who'll be there? In times of great emergencies, of course, the whole de Aryan family emerges to take their stand for PEACE for the United States of America, and as true Christians we send assurances of good will to all men on earth, bearing witness unto the Glory of God. We hate nobody and fear nobody. In God we trust. Now children, you may take over this program.

FRED—Say, David, did you see what Major Fleet wrote all over the front of his buildings at the Consolidated Aircraft on Pacific Highway?

DAVID—No, I haven't been down there recently.

FRED—You better go and look. He wrote in huge blocked letters, extending over several city blocks: NOTHING SHORT OF RIGHT IS RIGHT. I wonder what he wrote that for?

DAVID—Nothing Short of Right Is Right, why? that is perfectly obvious. Maybe Major Fleet wanted to call our attention that it is impossible to force people into slavery, like the Nazi Gestapo is doing, and claim that it is right to establish a totalitarian government by force.

MOTHER—It's just another way of saying that Might does not make Right.

FRED—I guess, he means that Germany will never conquer Britain as long as the Consair is sending bombers over there to fight Germany. What do you think about it, daddy?

DAD—I have not asked Major Fleet nor anybody from the Consolidated Aircraft management why they put that sign there, but I don't think that it means any of the idealistic views you imagine. Let's get down to facts and deal with the reality of things. What are they making in that plant?

DAVID—Airplanes and bombers.

DAD—And if they ship them to England, what do they use them for?

FRED—To bomb Germany.

DAD—Only Germany?

DAVID—No, the British are also bombing the coast towns of France, of Holland, Belgium, Italy and now that Greece has been conquered, I guess they are also bombing Greek ports and islands.

DAD—Alright;—and who gets hurt by those bombs?

FRED—Anybody that happens to be there. I see what you mean, dad.

DAVID—I get it. It's not only Germans, or Nazis, or soldiers who get hurt, but everybody in the vicinity of the bombs.

FRED—Men, women and children and their homes are destroyed, or burned and they get crippled. Daddy, why don't they bomb only soldiers, why do they bomb civilians, too?

DAD—This is total war, and the airplanes made it so.

MOTHER—It's a horrible mess, if one starts to think of it. But I don't see where that makes it right to bomb children, women and civilians, especially in France. That only forces the French to defend themselves against the British.

DAD—Now since bombing everybody does not make it right, what could Major Fleet have meant when he put that sign on his building?

FRED—Why don't you ask him, dad?

DAVID—Can't you figure it out without asking him?

DAD—Stay with the facts realistically and you cannot help but find the right answer.

FRED—I give up.

MOTHER—Go ahead, tell us.

DAD—They are making airplanes which are equipped with very delicate and finely attuned instruments for long distance flying, for blind flying and they have to do what Lindbergh did, he figured everything out right and then he tested his engine to make sure everything was set right.

FRED—I get you dad, those airplanes must be made right or they won't fly.

DAVID—I see what you mean; every man working in that shop must do his work right and no slipshod work can be accepted by the inspectors.

MOTHER—Funny, we did not think of that at first. It's quite evident, of course;—with all those thousands of workers, that sign reminds them morning, noon and night that precision is the most important part of their work.

FRED—You are right, mother. If they do not make every part just right, it won't fit when assembled, or if it is not made right the airplane is likely to break down in flight and kill the pilot. So everything has to be manufactured just exactly as the specifications set out.

DAVID—How do you get to figure these things out, so you know just what is meant, dad?

DAD—Mental training and spiritual and physical discipline. Train yourself to love the truth and always look for the truth and then stay with it, no matter what anybody else says or does, even when they all hate you for telling the truth and then it becomes second nature with you to put your finger on the right spot.

You must eliminate every personal feeling and be out after the truth with your whole soul and your whole mind and even subordinate your body to it. In that way nothing is permitted to interfer with the perception of the truth in any given case. Simply say: NOTHING SHORT OF RIGHT IS RIGHT. But don't only say it, you must live up to it. In that way you develop your inner senses, your higher intelligence until they function normally as God meant us to function and you can tell truth from falsehood. You can tell black from white and you can tell a cow from a horse. Remember what Jesus said: "My sheep know my voice". Love the truth and you learn to know the voice of God and whenever an idea presents itself to you, you can tell from the quality of the voice that is speaking, whose voice it is; like Abraham who said: The hands are Esau's but the voice is Jacob's.

DAVID—Is that how you figure things out, by the sound of the voice when an idea comes to you?

DAD—Here is what I mean: Suppose something happens and your life is in danger and you suddenly hear me call to you: STOP, David, STOP! Would you stop dead in your tracks?

DAVID—I get you, dad. There would be something in your voice that would tell me and warn me of the danger ahead.

DAD—Not only that, but WOULD you stop?

DAVID—I guess, I would, because it's you that's calling me to stop. I might wonder what it's all about, but I guess I'd stop.

DAD—Because you have faith in me. You know I would not say it with that tone of voice, unless I meant it and it was for your good. That's just how you train yourself to discern between the various qualities in the ideas that come to you everyday when you think, and in important moments, when you lift your thought to God for guidance, you know whether the response if from God, whether it is the truth or whether the idea is foolish and will lead you to no good purpose.

FRED—I believe it's time for our song, mother.

MOTHER—What shall we sing?

FRED—Let's sing: Salaam Aleikum by Otoman Zaradusht Hanish. It means: Peace Be With You.

DAVID—Is daddy going to sing, too?

DAD—Why, certainly!

DAVID—I'd rather you would not, you'll spoil the program; I don't think you can sing.

DAD—That's what the studio fellows said when they took a voice test to find out whether I have a radio voice; they said, "keep that fellow off the radio, his accent is terrible". But these are times of great emergencies when I don't bother about voice or no voice. When it comes to stand up for PEACE I am going to do my share and stand up and be counted. So let's go ahead and sing.

SALAAM ALEIKUM by O. Z. Hanish, Chicago, Illinois.

Sa-laam, Sa-laam . . . A-le-i-kum, . . . Peace to the world, . . . to those who roam, . . . Tho' they be poor . . . or on a throne, . . . Sa-laam, . . . Sa-laam . . . A-le-i-kum . . .

Crescent or cross, . . . a sun or crown, . . Love be proclaimed . . . in every town, . . .

Peace unto thee, . . peace to thy home, . . . peace to the light, . . . peace to the gloom, . . .

Let there be peace . . . in each domain, . . . Monarch or king . . . whoever reign, . . Sa-laam, Sa-laam . . . A-le-i-kum. . . .

DAD—Well? Did I spoil the program?

DAVID—I don't know. They'll soon phone in and tell you.

FRED—Am I going to be on the program again next week, daddy?

DAD—You may, if you care to.

FRED—Is mother going to sing again? What about it, mother?

MOTHER—I wonder whether Mr. Nathan would like me to sing: A Hebrew Lullaby, A Yiddish Wiegelied, by Polly Berman. It's a splendid number.

DAD—Now it's time to go home. And remember, folks, subscribe to THE BROOM and do it now. It's the weekly paper which brings out the things you have in mind, but which you did not have a chance to say yourself. You know San Diego needs a publication that brings out the truth. So make it your business to read it every Monday.

Organ: Salaam Aleikum, chorus.

DAD—Sholem Alekhum!—a Hebrew salutation, meaning: God's Peace be with you, and your household.—And the response is:

CHORUS—Alekhum Sholem.

MORE PLANNING

We're now to plan astronomy soon,
To fix the sun and then the moon,
That we can sleep in June till eight,
Play "Golf" in winter rather late.

For F. D's birth day don't forget,
We stop the sun a while. "You bet!"
The big ones they can do these things
To show that they are really kings.

Since kings though are now out of fashion
They want to be "Lords of creation",
Fixing what never can be fixed
Until with dirt their bones are mixed.

What we materialize with heart and brain,
We can consider lasting, honest gain.
But what we win by spear and sword
Will bring no blessings from the Lord.
